

For children: Cinderella

Love knows no boundaries, that is the magic of life! -Marina Kesler
Sergey Prokofiev's ballet comes to the stage in Tallinn. Marina Kesler retells this classic fairy tale through beautiful choreography. It is a ballet for the whole family, and a fairy tale brought to life. ■

November 16, 23, 25
Estonian National Opera, Tallinn
www.opera.ee

The Moon is the Sun (Kuu on päike)

This one-act rock musical is set to the songs of Estonian singer Tanel Padar and his band, The Sun. Padar is known for winning the Eurovision Song Contest in 2011. It is a musical about dreams, but also the self-destruction that comes along with wanting to be someone else. ■

November 22, 23, 24, 25.
Estonian National Opera Chamber Hall, Tallinn
www.opera.ee

Coming up:

New Year's Eve Ball

If you're planning to be in Tallinn over the holidays, or more specifically for New Year's Eve, why not enjoy a Venetian carnival? This annual event at the Estonian National Opera is an exciting way to bring in the New Year. Enjoy an evening of colourful costumes, beautiful masks, and glamorous entertainment. The first half of the evening will be the musical production

"Carnival of Venice," with the Italian tenor Alessandro Luciano, accompanied by soloists, a choir, and the orchestra of the Estonian National Opera. During the second part of the evening, enjoy the "La Jazz" jazz program by Villu Veski and Tiit Kalluste, with special guest, Sofia Rubina.

Carnival of Venice
20.00- December 31, Estonian National Opera, Tallinn
www.opera.ee